Huerta Takes it Coolly.

Government officials, foreign residents and the people of Mexico realize that the relations between this country and the United States are strained almost to the point of war, but there is perhaps no man in the entire republic who knows one day what Washington will do the next.

John Lind himself, who represents the president of the United States, is ignorant of the affairs of his chief and if Gen. Huerta is anxious at all regarding wha may develop he does not betray it. Although he has sent to the diplomatic representatives of the foreign nations a note, which in effect is a defiance of Washington, he was conspicuous in the cafes about town long after the midnight hour and indulged in relaxation in the company of his military friends

More uneasiness is apparent at the American embassy than at the national palace. At the palace the opinion was freely expressed, not infrequently accompanied by sneers, that the United States would never intervene in Mexico.

It is considered that Huerta's open impossible for Washington longer to withhold the exact character of Huerta's reply, which was made last week, and that this publicity will make some more definite step necessary immediately.
